

Fostering Science in Society through the Scientific Method

Balasubramanian Rajeswari, Science Centre Singapore, Singapore

Science Centre Singapore reaches out to the public in different ways. One unique exhibition space is Scientist For A Day. Launched in 2011, visitors are offered multiple channels of engagement to learn about the Scientific Method: through exhibit explanations, followed immediately by practising it hands-on using simple table-top experiments.