

Digital Communications: Reaching out to diverse audiences on different platforms through relevant and creative storytelling.

Eng Yee Peng, Science Centre Singapore, Singapore

As the technology and media landscape changes, so do our communication platforms. In this digital age, how may Science Centres stay relevant and communicate effectively to different audiences through the various and very diverse digital platforms? Optimised or Victimised by the current trend? The choice and future is yours to make.